MEAT INSPECTION SERVICE AND 28-HOUR-LAW ENFORCEMENT TRANSFERRED TO FOOD DISTRIBUTION ADMINISTRATION

Secretary of Agriculture, Claude R. Wickard, issued, on February 4, an order consolidating certain functions, personnel, and property of the Bureau of Animal Industry into the Food Distribution Administration. The activities so consolidated consist of the Federal meat inspection service and the administration of the 28-hour law. The transfers, in line with the President's Executive Order 9280 of December 5, 1942, puts these activities into the agency now performing the marketing and distributing functions of the Department.

Beginning with the February issue, the Bureau's Service and Regulatory Announcements will discontinue notices and data that pertain to the meat inspection service and enforcement of the 28-hour law. Similar omissions will occur in future issues of other publications descriptive of the Bureau's organization and activities.
